

Summer Reading Letter

June 8, 2021

Dear Upper School Students,

I hope you are doing well. This summer there are 50 choices for our summer book discussion groups that are being sponsored by both Upper School students and teachers! I know you will find one (or more) that you will enjoy reading. Again this year, the discussions will take place over the summer on either on Microsoft Teams or on campus, so you can participate in multiple discussions. At a minimum, you must read and discuss one book that you haven't read before, and we will be giving prizes and recognition to the three students who read and participate in the most book discussions.

If you haven't chosen your book yet or would like to make a change, the list of books and the calendar of discussions are available on the Summer Reading page on the library website:

<https://libguides.gsbschool.org/c.php?g=414674&p=3271951>

In addition, be sure to check your email this summer, since Ms. Mueller will be sending out reminders and the invites for the book discussions. Many of the books are available on our e-reader app (Sora), on local public library e-reader apps (Cloud Library and Libby), or can be ordered from bookshop.org.

Please let me know if you have any questions!

Happy Reading,
